4:15 – 5 pm	Artificial Intelligence 101 for Physicians and Patients-The Future is Now PS James Spellos, Meeting U Since ChatGPT exploded on the scene in 2022, Artificial Intelligence has gone from a tool used to extract trends from big data to one that is on the desktop and device of everyone. Physicians and patients alike now have extensive AI resources at their disposal. So what does the AI app (both mobile and desktop) landscape look like in mid 2023? How does ChatGPT really work, and what separates the quality of information it produces? And what tools are currently available for physicians and patients to be able to best utilize this tool, while minimizing the misinformation that is an ongoing component of today’s desktop AI conversation. Whether you’ve worked with AI before, or have never had the time to explore, this session is a timely way for you to jumpstart your knowledge.
